

THE WZ METHOD AND INTRODUCTORY STATEMENT

Wicklander-Zulawski Europe

Construct the listed components of the WZ Method, including your Introductory Statement and the rationalisations for you investigations. The outline to your approach should be based on the subject profile and the facts of the case. Use the spaces below to record your outline.

Who we are and what we do.	As you know, my name is _____ and I work with the _____ department. Our job is to protect that community, its _____, _____, and _____ from any time of criminal activity. To do that, we get involved with a number of different complaints. For example, some might be traffic problems that we have to deal with on a daily basis. Other times, we have to deal with businesses or homeowners who are filing false reports in an attempt to obtain a fraudulent insurance settlement. Then, we have those instances where someone is genuinely a victim. The department's primary concern has to be with the most serious type of incidences: homicides, rapes – rather than something of a minor nature, like a small item being taken, or someone trespassing.

Types of Losses/Issues	As an investigator, we're asked to look into any number of different crimes. I am sure you are aware that our community, like any other community, has its share of problems. These problems range from... Crimes <table border="1" style="width: 100%; border-collapse: collapse;"> <tr><td style="width: 33%; height: 20px;"> </td><td style="width: 33%;"> </td><td style="width: 33%;"> </td></tr> <tr><td style="height: 20px;"> </td><td> </td><td> </td></tr> </table>

How an investigation is conducted	Now, when we discover or we receive a problem or complaint from a member of the public, the case is assigned for investigation. Now, when it is assigned for investigation, we will use any number of different techniques to attempt to establish who was responsible for the incident under investigation. Investigation Techniques <table border="1" style="width: 100%; border-collapse: collapse;"> <tr><td style="width: 100%; height: 20px;"> </td></tr> <tr><td style="height: 20px;"> </td></tr> <tr><td style="height: 20px;"> </td></tr> <tr><td style="height: 20px;"> </td></tr> </table> These, as well as many other different types of investigative techniques, help us to identify the individual responsible and begin to develop the case. It may help supply us with the information necessary to obtain a search warrant so that we can search a home, vehicle, or garage wherever we believe we may recover addition evidence of the individual's guilt.
